Hi Patrick,

I'm writing to let you know that one of the seizures we made in Nelson/Krischner/Atherton case has also had its stay elapse. The claimant has agreed to an additional 12 month stay (and we don't think we'll need another), but would only agree if we returned $600,000 of the $800,000 seized. Given that we probably seized the funds too early and obtaining further stays on a contested basis seemed very unlikely, this is where we landed. I wanted to let you know before anything on this was filed.

Best regards,
Kevin

Hi Patrick,

Jamar Walker gave me your contact information. I'm the forfeiture AUSA working on the Carleton Nelson et al. case. I'm writing to let you know that in one of our civil forfeiture cases, 1:20-cv-1343, we have settled with the Nelsons, resulting in the forfeiture of $108,000 and the return of $525,000 to the Nelsons. The decision to enter into this settlement was driven by the status of the criminal case and the desire to avoid engaging in civil discovery, which usually has a negative impact on a criminal case that has not yet concluded (or at least gone to trial yet). Unfortunately, our stay of the civil forfeiture case elapsed and the magistrate judge seemed to indicate that he was unwilling to grant another one. If you have any questions or would like to discuss, I'm happy to do so.

Best regards,
Kevin
